

THREATENED DEADLOCK AVERTED BY COMPROMISE

BOTH MEXICAN AND AMERICAN DELEGATES MAKE CONCESSIONS

Mexicans Will Let Executive Body of Mexico Deal With Land Question.—U. S. Delegates Finally Yield Point After Insisting That Mediators Must Decide Whole Question.—Smooth Progress Being Made.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 25.—The threatened deadlock in the mediation conference here over the vexed land question in Mexico is believed to have been averted today by a compromise in which both the Mexican and American delegates made concessions. For several days the diplomatic tribunal displayed of finding a common place, but finally both sides have come to see that if the mediation is to be a success this question must be viewed in a spirit of conciliation.

The Mexican delegates have insisted that in the existing condition of Mexico it was idle to talk of a wholesale subdivision of estates for the benefit of an ignorant and improvident class, lacking both energy and thrift to profit by such a humanitarian scheme.

Finally they decided that the whole land question belonged to the executive body of Mexico alone to deal with.

The delegates representing the United States held firmly to their ground insisting that this question must be settled before the entire Mexican problem could be solved.

Now it may safely be asserted that by mutual concessions there is reason for hope that the matter will be adjusted by the mediators putting on record their earnest advice, the Mexican delegates giving the best pledge in their power and the Americans accepting as in good faith the assurance thus tendered.

Making Good Progress.
Smooth progress toward a common agreement on all phases of the Mexican problem is being made by the mediators and the American and Mexican delegates. This was stated with emphasis by the mediators tonight after a day of conferences principally with the Mexican delegates.

The three South American diplomats made it plain that while every aspect of the Mexican situation, both international and internal, had been laid before the delegates, from the United States and Mexico, no formal basis had yet been reached for the treatment in any specified order of the issues involved. The discussion this far has been of a general character. The mediators have taken the position that they are essentially counsellors and not dictators of the destinies of the Mexican republic. From the Mexican delegates themselves must originate proposals concerning the internal affairs of their country and these suggestions will be transmitted by the mediators to the American delegates. The mediators do not conceive it to be their duty to undertake to legislate upon questions which properly fall within the jurisdiction of the constitutional government when established. The most they can do in this direction would be in the line of suggestion and kindly recommendation. The theory under which the internal questions are being brought into the discussion is that the United States has a right to say whom it will recognize as provisional president of Mexico and therefore can indicate in advance who will be acceptable. On the Agrarian problem, too, suggestions must originate from the Mexican delegates. The mediators and the American delegates alike paid warm tribute to the Mexican delegates. The latter have approached the work of composing the difficulties by setting their country from a broad patriotic standpoint and have at no time shown a disposition to lift the personal fortunes of any Mexican publicist to a controlling place. The mediators as well as the American and Mexican delegates have pledged themselves to keep their proceedings secret. One reason for this is the desire of the Mexican delegates that various phases of the discussion here, particularly those relating to the retirement of Huerta, should not be misinterpreted in Mexico City and thus weaken the administration there in handling the Mexican situation against the constitutionalists. There were no more conferences with the Americans during the day. The mediators spent most of their time explaining to the Mexicans the view point of the Americans as presented to them last night.

Reports Increase Hope for Peace.
Washington, May 25.—Satisfactory reports from the Mexican mediation conference at Niagara Falls today increased the hopes of the Washington government that international warfare can be averted and ultimate peace brought to Mexico. That a satisfactory basis for working out the international dispute between the Huerta government and the United States had been reached was declared to be a fact. Moreover it was asserted in official circles that the prospect for smothering the fires of revolution within Mexican borders within a reasonable time is not discouraging. No assurances have come from General Carranza, chief of the constitutionalist forces pressing on Mexico City, that he will send representatives to the mediation conference even as listeners and informants. Denials were given in official quarters, however, that there had been flat refusal on the part of Carranza to consider any form of mediation proposals. The point is made in some quarters here that even should Carranza's forces complete their triumphant campaign by capturing the seat of the Huerta government in Mexico City such a climax would not pacify Mexico and their still would be no need for mediation. With the cause of revolution triumphant over Huerta there are many who believe that the strong men in the revolt against Huerta would realize that constitutional government must be established in the wake of military conquest and that such only could be accomplished through the good offices of the powers which have undertaken to compose the Mexican situation.

Will Not Withdraw Warships.
It has been determined by the navy department not to withdraw any battleships from Mexican waters at this time, though such a course had been contemplated. It was made plain at the department that none of the battleships would be withdrawn until there is absolute assurance that the army will not be forced to a campaign in the interior of Mexico.

An important conference was held today over the oil situation at Tampico between Secretary Bryan, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador and Mr. VanRappard, minister from the Netherlands. It resulted in a decision on the part of the three powers to repudiate acquisition of oil properties or leases of foreigners by persons who took advantage of the enforced absence of rightful claimants. Notice of the intention of the government's has been forwarded to authorities at Tampico.

Conditions in Guadalajara, an objective point of the constitutionalists, were reported quiet in messages to diplomatic agencies here. Reports, however, that the position of General Huerta in Mexico City steadily was growing worse again reached Washington through diplomatic and private Mexican channels.

Huerta's financial straits were described in one message as the most serious phase in the situation for him, fears being expressed that with his warchest practically exhausted, his troops might get out of hand or that one of his generals might seize the favorable opportunity to launch another revolt against him.

Another message reiterated the rumors of growing military dissatisfaction, and added that among the civil population there was also a strong anti-Huerta feeling. The effect of the American landing in Vera Cruz, it was said, was passing away and part of the population were commencing to take sides against the provisional president.

PATMONT TELLS STORY BEFORE GRAND JURY

WILL RESUME STAND THIS MORNING AND COMPLETE REMARKABLE TALE

Kidnaped "Dry" Worker Believes He Can Identify Two of the Men If Brought Face To Face With Them.—Is Unable To Describe Automobile.—Doubt Is Expressed As To Truth of Story.

DANVILLE, Ill., May 25.—"Am I happy? I feel as though I had escaped the tortures of perdition itself. I cannot express the tortures of mind, the wretchedness and misery of the days and nights in that cellar, and the helplessness of my position the entire time," said the Rev. Louis R. Patmont today as he was preparing to go before the grand jury to relate the story of his alleged kidnaping and imprisonment from March 21st, until last Saturday afternoon when he was found trussed-up, buckled and gagged, in an abandoned farm house in Monroe county, clear across the state from Westville, where he disappeared during a red hot local option campaign.

"It is good to be back among friends again. You can have no idea how friendly faces appear after such an experience as mine," he added. "My parents are here and my wife and babies are coming soon. Then my cup of happiness will be running over."

Rev. Patmont was taken before the grand jury this afternoon and when that body adjourned this evening it was stated that his story had not been completed and that he would resume it tomorrow morning. State's Attorney J. H. Lewman, who went to Columbia, Monroe county, with a party of "dry" workers, and returned to Danville last night with Rev. Patmont, said he had conferred with the state's attorney of Monroe county who will cooperate with detectives now at work on that end of the Patmont trail while others representing a Chicago agency, are employed here. He refused to divulge any of the evidence produced thus far by Rev. Patmont, but admitted that there was much of it that had not been made public upon which he hoped to obtain arrests and convictions.

Rev. Patmont declares that four men assaulted and kidnaped him at Westville, carried him a short distance on a handcar and then took him in an automobile to a house in Danville where he was confined until last Thursday or Friday. (He is not sure which day.) were strangers to him, but he believes he can identify two of them if brought face to face with them. He said he was not able to describe the automobile in which he was taken to the house where he was confined nearly two months and later conveyed him to Monroe county as it was dark each time he was conscious enough or had an opportunity of seeing it. Stories to the effect that he had described it as a large red car owned by a Danville man he branded as untrue.

ALL HOPE IS ABANDONED FOR YOUNG ENGLISH AVIATOR

No News of Aviator Gustave Hamel, Who Attempted to Fly Across English Channel Has Been Found.

LONDON, May 25.—All hope for the brilliant young aviator Gustave Hamel, who attempted to cross the channel in a fog last Saturday in order to reach Hendon with a new machine with which he intended the same day to compete in the aerial derby has been abandoned. Cruisers and destroyers, both British and French have swept the channel in every direction for two days using searchlights at night and exhaustive searches have been made on both coasts. In these coast guards have aided and no signs has been found either of the aviator or his machine.

It is considered probable that his new and almost untold machine may have developed some weakness or defect which caused the disaster.

RICH NURSERYMAN TO REMAIN IN MAPLEWOOD SANITORIUM

Clarence M. Stark of Louisiana, Mo., Founder of Million Dollar Business Is Denied Writ of Habeas Corpus Monday Evening.

Clarence M. Stark, a wealthy nurseryman of Louisiana, Mo., who was brought here Friday, May 22, and committed to Maplewood Sanatorium, must remain there to undergo treatment for an unsound mental condition, according to the decision of Judge Jones in habeas corpus proceedings for his release Monday evening.

Mr. Stark was one of the founders of the Stark Bros. Nurseries and Orchards Co., a concern which he took the management of in the early 70's and which has since grown to million dollar proportions. He is a victim of paranoia, a chronic form of insanity characterized by very gradual impairment of the intellect and the possession of many delusions. Judge Jones decided that the circumstances did not warrant him disregarding the action of the Missouri courts and ordered Mr. Stark remanded to the respondent, Dr. F. P. Norbury, who returned with him to Maplewood.

Mr. Stark was first adjudged insane in December 1911 and his wife, Mrs. Lillie C. Stark was appointed his guardian. It was she who had him taken to the sanatorium here last week and opposed the granting of the writ Monday evening. J. W. Matson of Louisiana presented her case, with the assistance of Kirby, Wilson and Baldwin. David A. Ball of Louisiana and Paul P. Thompson were attorneys for Mr. Stark. Besides the attorneys, there were present at the hearing, Mrs. Stark, her daughter Mrs. J. B. Lunsell and son Paul Stark, T. W. Crowdon, M. D., physician and mayor of Louisiana, J. W. Dreyfus, M. D., and G. B. Berry, a former employee of Mr. Stark, who accompanied him to Maplewood last week.

The decisions in the case hinged upon a question of jurisdiction. The mental condition of Mr. Stark was questioned by neither side, it having been shown that he is subject to attacks when he becomes violent and threatens suicide and that within the last few years he has been a patient at St. Louis, Lake Geneva, San Antonio and once before in Maplewood. A citizen of Louisiana is authority for the statement that he has been mentally unbalanced for years, almost since boyhood. Mr. Stark is fifty-eight years old and elderly in appearance. During the trial Monday evening, he had the appearance of a normal man, displaying however considerable nervousness.

In speaking for the release of Mr. Stark, Messrs. Ball and Thompson questioned the right of the guardian to send her charge beyond the state border. Mr. Stark could not have been legally committed to an Illinois institution by a court in Missouri. They read from the statutes also to show that the court issuing the order of commitment had not the legal authority, as only probate courts may issue such orders and the probate court in Louisiana was not at that time in session. In adding argument against the granting of the writ Messrs. Wilson, Brookhouse and Matson asserted that as the order did not commit Mr. Stark to any particular hospital, Maplewood or any place the guardian deemed for the best interests of the ward, were a permissible place of commitment. Judge Jones favored the latter view and after reviewing the case decided in favor of the respondent, Dr. Norbury and against Mr. Ball who swore out the writ.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF YOUNG GIRL

DOWNERS GROVE GIRL FOUND DEAD IN CLUMP OF BUSHES NEAR TOWN

Several Bruises on Her Head Leads Sheriff to Believe She Was Beaten to Death but Physicians Do Not Think These Wounds Would Have Caused Death—Search for Her Companion.

DOWNERS GROVE, Ills., May 25.—Florence Bentley, 21 years old, was found dead today in a clump of bushes south of town. Several bruises on the girl's head led the sheriff to the belief that she was beaten to death. Miss Bentley disappeared Saturday night. She went to visit at the home of Mrs. Harry Walker, her sister. About 8 o'clock she started home, escorted by Reginald Bahr, a young friend who lives with the Walker family.

When Bahr did not return to the Walker house and Miss Bentley did not reach home, friends thought they might have eloped, as they were employed in the same office in Chicago and rode to and from the city frequently in the same train.

Bahr has not been found, but a search will be made for him, Sheriff Kuhn said.

Unable to Tell Cause.
Dr. W. C. Webb and coroner's physician Pruitt were unable to tell the cause of Miss Bentley's death by a post mortem examination tonight. The bruises on her head, it was stated, were not enough sufficient to cause death and a further investigation will be made to determine if poison can be found in the body. Sheriff Kuhn tonight sent notice to his deputies to arrest Bahr if he can be found. No warrant has been issued for the young man who was last seen with the girl. The spot where the body was found was almost on the extreme south end of town far from Miss Bentley's home.

Young Bahr Will Surrender.
Downers, Ills., (Tuesday) May 26.—Miss Bentley fainted in his arms while he was caressing her and believing he had broken her neck, he became frightened and ran away. This is the story Young Bahr is reported to have told four boy friends who came across him in the woods south of town early this morning, according to story they brought back to the police. He slept at a stone quarry at Naperville on Saturday night and spent Sunday in Aurora at the home of a friend, he said.

Bahr, the boys said, promised to surrender to the police who would protect him. They returned to town and in a few minutes started back to the woods with Marshall White.

JOHN HENRY'S ATTORNEYS WILL MAKE INSANITY THEIR PLEA OF DEFENSE

THIS LINE INDICATED BY QUESTIONS ASKED IN EXAMINING JURORS MONDAY AFTERNOON

Trial Was Entered Upon and Four Jurors from the Regular Panel Accepted by Prosecution and Defense—Special Venire of Sixty Ordered by Judge Jones—Indications Are that Jury May Be Secured To-Day—Defendant Shows Result of Confinement but Is Well Controlled.

JURORS ACCEPTED.
John Ehlert, farmer, Jacksonville.
Charles Hart, farmer, Franksville.
J. W. Mann, motorman, Jacksonville.
John Gofnet, farmer, Concord.
Jurors Passed But Subject To Challenge.
N. Z. Reinback, business man, Franklin.
Amos May, barber, Jacksonville.
H. W. Dinwiddie, farmer, Arcadia.

Defendant Self-Possessed.
Only once or twice during the afternoon did the accused confer with his attorneys and infrequently with any of the members of his family. To all outward appearance he was calm and self-possessed, although those who sat near him could not fail to note the nervous twitching of his hands. The months he has spent in jail have not told on him save that there is a certain pallor of countenance which comes with confinement. It is understood that he has been very urgent that the case should come to trial as he was very anxious to have the matter settled and thought better to have it now than postpone to further months of confinement in the county jail.

With the attorneys for the prosecution who are T. F. Smith, J. Marshall Miller, Judge Layman, and John M. Butler, sat T. M. Bush, who is administrator of the estate of the late Charles Ezard. With him during part of the afternoon was Dallas Crain, an uncle of Everett Crain, one of the three whom it is alleged Henry shot and killed on January 27th, last. When the case was called for trial there was nothing about the court room to indicate that a matter of such importance was about to be entered upon. Judge Jones simply said, "Call No. 30 on the criminal docket, the people versus John Henry, murder." "The people are ready," said States Attorney Tilton, and Judge Jones asked, "How is it with the defendant?" W. N. Hairgrove replied, the defense was ready, and with these words the case had been formally entered up for trial. Mr. Hairgrove then filed a motion to quash the indictment. This however proved to be a mere formal matter and was not argued. The court entered an order overruling the motion and then asked if the defendant had been furnished a copy of the indictment. The reply was in the affirmative and twelve jurors of the regular panel were called to the box, and the inquiry as to their qualifications for jury service was entered upon.

Jurors Called to Box.
When the trial opened T. F. Smith related the main points charged in the indictment. The first twelve jurors called to the jury box were G. W. Bender, Alexander, Terah Massey, Jacksonville; Frank J. Vieira, Jacksonville; N. G. Keplinger, Waverly; W. W. Robertson, Prentice; John Day, Jacksonville; John Ehlert, Jacksonville; Chas. Hart, Franklin; Samuel Darley, Pisgah; Frank Taggart, of Meredosia; J. W. Mann, Jacksonville; John Gofnet, Concord. When the jurors had taken their places in the jury box the examination for the state began, the questions being asked by T. F. Smith.

The first juror examined was G. W. Bender, and the answers to questions were about as follows: "I am a farmer and have lived for a number of years in Alexander precinct. I have not in recent years served on any jury except one in the county court relating to an estate claim. I have heard of this case through conversation and through the accounts read in newspapers. The persons I talked with assumed to tell the facts but I do not know as to the truth of the facts. It would require evidence to remove the opinion that I have in this case." When the attorney asked the question, "Do you object to the infliction of the death penalty if the case according to the law justifies such punishment?" Mr. Bender replied that he hardly knew how he felt in reference to this matter.

In answer to questions by Mr. Smith, Terah Massey said that he had been in the employ of the La Crosse Lumber company for ten years. He said that he did not know the defendant, and knows his father only slightly in connection with purchases at the lumber yard. He had talked about the case to a number of persons and had read the accounts in the papers. He said that he thought that it would require evidence to remove his opinion in the case and it would be hard for him to give a fair and impartial verdict. He said also that he had some Reinback, of Franklin; Amos May, of Jacksonville, and H. W. Dinwiddie, of Arcadia, have been examined and re-examined and there were some indications of their acceptance by both sides when court adjourned. Douglas Turley of Arcadia, Owen Buckley of Chapin; John Bauman, of Jacksonville, district five, and G. W. Martin, of Jacksonville, route 7, were in the jury box but have not been examined. When court was called to order the roll showed absent of the regular panel, Lloyd Reid, W. H. Stice, and Herman Ellis, Jacksonville. Jurors excused by Judge Jones for reasons made known to him were James Galloway, Jacksonville; James Galloway, Woodson, and Frank Tracy, Alexander.

When the court session opened Monday afternoon it was a notable fact that while the people room seats only about 200 people, not all the seats were filled. Later on how ever, other persons came in and all seats were filled and a few persons were standing.

Evidence Needed to Remove Opinion
Frank J. Vicia stated that he was a painter and 45 years of age. He said that he did not know John Henry and knew the father only by sight. He said that his knowledge of the case was what he had heard and read and what he supposed to be the facts; that his opinion was fixed and that it would take strong evidence to remove it.

N. G. Keplinger of Waverly said that he did not know the defendant but knew Jesse Henry and Charles Henry very slightly. He had heard of the case from general conversation and was familiar with the reported facts, and thought that his opinion might be removed. In fact, evidence would remove his opinion and he believed he could enter fairly on the trial and give the defendant the benefit of all testimony. Some further inquiry made it seem that Mr. Keplinger's opinion were too pronounced and he was challenged for cause.

W. W. Robertson said that he knew the defendant slightly and had met him at a number of public sales. He had heard from conversation as to alleged crime and had read of it in the papers but had no special opinion formed. He believed that he could try the case just as fairly as if he had not heard of or conversed about it.

John Day said that he had read and talked of the case but believed he could try it fairly and according to evidence presented. Mr. Day who is 67 years old was excused at the suggestion of Mr. Hairgrove because of age.

John Ehler said that he is 42 years of age and lives on a farm southwest of Jacksonville. He said he did not know John Henry and had no business with any member of the family. He had heard of the case through the newspapers and by conversation and did not consider that he had any fixed opinion as to the truth of the facts as stated in the papers or in conversation. He said that if taken as a juror he would try the case fairly and impartially.

Had Bought of Henry Firm.
At this point Mr. Smith returned to the questioning of W. W. Robertson and asked him if he had not had some business dealing with the Henrys. Mr. Robertson replied that he had in several instances bought from or sold to the Henry commission firm in East St. Louis. In reply to a further question he said that would not hesitate to inflict the death penalty if the facts of law justified.

Further questions were asked Mr. Keplinger at this time by Mr. Smith, and the latter said that his opinion was simply made upon the alleged facts. At this point the court having been in session but just one hour, Messrs. Keplinger, Robertson, Day and Ehler were tendered by the state as competent jurors. W. N. Hairgrove for the defense then took up the interrogation of the jurors. He asked Mr. Keplinger if on the basis of the conversation or gossip he had heard of the case, he had not some opinion and the juror replied that possibly he had some slight opinion but it would not necessarily define and if accepted he would be governed by the law and evidence. Mr. Hairgrove then questioned W. W. Robertson, who said that he had not formed or expressed an opinion and knew no reason why he could not try the case fairly and be governed by the law and evidence in the case.

Defense Challenged Mr. Robertson.
Mr. Hairgrove then asked a few questions from Mr. Day and suggested that the juror be excused from the case because of his age. And Judge Jones ruled Mr. Hairgrove also pronounced questions to Mr. Ehler.

The next juror examined was Charles Hart by T. F. Smith. Mr. Hart said that he is a farmer, 42 years of age and that he lives in the vicinity of Franklin. He said that he did not know the members of the Henry family and that he did not know Charles Ezard. He said that his knowledge of the case comes from conversation and that he had no definite opinion and had expressed none. Mr. Smith then tendered Mr. Hart as competent. Then Mr. Hart was questioned by W. N. Hairgrove and repeated the statements and to his knowledge of the case being founded only on hearsay. He had talked with some young fellow whose name he did not recollect. The defense then accepted Messrs. Keplinger, Robertson and Hart, and Ehler, this was at 2:50 o'clock. At this point the prosecution took advantage of their first preemptory challenge and excused W. W. Robertson.

The next juror was Samuel Darley of Pisgah precinct and he was first questioned by Mr. Smith. He said that he met Henry three or four years ago but had no business dealings with him and that he had no business relations with other members of the family. He had talked about the case and had read the newspaper accounts and it would take some evidence to remove his opinion of the case. He said, however, that he would give a fair trial. In answer to the question as to whether he had expressed an opinion he replied that he was not certain and that he rarely expressed one unless it was asked for. Judge Jones asked the juror if the opinion possibly expressed was as to the facts in the case or as to the facts as alleged in the newspaper accounts, and this brought out that the statement made related to the facts as related in the papers. Mr. Darley was challenged by the defense for cause.

The next juror was Frank Taggart of Meredosia, who said that he had formed an opinion of the case from reading the newspaper accounts and from conversation, but that evidence might change this opinion. He said he thought he could lay aside the opinion that he formed in the matter and he was passed by the state as competent.

Hadn't Studied Law.
Then the examination was taken by W. N. Hairgrove. When he asked the juror if he had ever studied law, Mr. Taggart replied: "Not that any body knows of." Judge Layman laughing said in an aside, "He's like some of the rest of us." The juror said that he might have talked about the case and probably expressed an opinion but the opinion was based only on whatever he had heard rumored.

The attorneys at this point engaged in some discussion as to whether or not the fact of a juror having expressed an opinion disqualified him from service. Judge Jones was of the opinion that a juror was not disqualified if he simply expressed an opinion based upon that he read and not upon an investigation of the case resulting in his conclusion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused. The court referred to the amended law as to this question. Judge Layman asked Mr. Taggart if he had expressed any opinion as to the truth of the reports he had heard and the juror replied he had not and could try the case in accordance with the law and evidence.

Insanity Plea Indicated.
Then Mr. Hairgrove asked Mr. Taggart if he had ever talked to anybody from Jacksonville or Woodson, and the juror that he had conversed with one man at Meredosia who had lived at Woodson and who was acquainted with some of the parties. Mr. Hairgrove then, for the first time gave some inkling as to the line of defense to be followed when he asked Mr. Taggart if he had any prejudice against insanity as a plea for defense. The juror indicated that he had some prejudice.

Mr. Hairgrove asked if the juror would have any prejudice as to the insanity plea if it was shown by the evidence that according to the laws of the state an accused person could be declared innocent of the crimes charged against him on account of alleged insanity being proven according to law. Mr. Ehler was not opposed to such a plea.

Mr. Hairgrove propounded the same question to Mr. Keplinger, who indicated that possibly he might have some slight prejudice to the insanity plea but said that he certainly did not think that any insane person should be held accountable for his acts. The defense passed jurors Keplinger, Ehler, Hart and Taggart as competent.

Judge Layman took up the questioning of Keplinger on behalf of the state. At this point the attorneys for the defense entered into an argument with reference as to what must be the jurors state of mind with reference to sanity at the time of the commission of the crime and at the present time. Authorities were cited by both sides. Then the state used the preemptory challenge against Mr. Keplinger.

J. W. Mann was questioned by Mr. Smith, and said that he had an opinion fixed only by what he had heard and read. He had not expressed any opinion at least so far as to the truth of the reports he heard. He could render a fair and impartial verdict in accordance with the evidence and facts. Mr. Mann said that he had lived in Jacksonville about 12 years and prior to that lived on a farm east of the city. He was tendered as competent by the prosecution.

Mr. Taggart Excused For Cause.

Again Mr. Hairgrove began the inquiry for the defense and asked the juror if he had any prejudice against the plea of insanity. The juror was then asked if he understood that if after hearing all the evidence that there was a reasonable doubt as to the sanity of the accused that Henry should be given the benefit of the doubt. The juror said that he would not hesitate to render a verdict in such a case in accordance with the provisions of the law. Mr. Taggart was at this point excused for cause.

The questioning of John Gofnett was commenced by Mr. Hairgrove. The juror said that he lived four miles northwest of Concord and had talked only to members of his family with reference to the case. He said that he had no special prejudice against an insanity plea in a criminal case. He was passed upon as competent by the defense and was questioned by T. F. Smith. He said that he had no opinion at this time as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant. The four jurors were then accepted by both the defense and the prosecution. John Ehler, Charles Hart, J. W. Mann and John Gofnett.

Four Excused For Cause.

The next juror to be examined was E. G. Save, who said that he knew C. E. Henry, that he had talked about the case and from the discussion and newspaper stories he had a fixed opinion. He said he had expressed an opinion he thought and it would be difficult for him to give a fair and impartial trial in the case.

John Bland was next examined by Mr. Smith. He said that he had heard and talked of the case but that his knowledge was confined to conversation and to newspaper accounts. However, it would require evidence to remove his opinion.

Mr. Smith questioned Charles Elliott who said that he had an opinion in the case which would be very hard for him to lay aside.

Mr. Smith next devoted his attention to L. R. Watson of Woodson precinct who said that he had known John Henry about as long as he could remember. He said that his opinion of the affair was based upon the conversation with people alleged to know the facts and he would have to have evidence to change his opinion. At this point Messrs. Saye, Bland, Elliott and Watson were excused for cause.

Mr. Smith said that he had read of the case in various papers and did not know that he had expressed an opinion and there was no reason why he could not give a fair and impartial trial.

Then Mr. Smith examined John Ommen of Concord who maintained that he had an opinion as to the guilt of the defendant of the accused and that it would take strong evidence to remove that opinion.

Louis Perbix of Markham was called and questioned by Mr. Smith and said he read about the case and talked about it but had no opinion as to the truth of the reports other than in the manner indicated. He said he could lay aside any opinion that he might have formed.

Nine Jurors Excused For Cause.
Anton Graef said that he knew all of the interested parties and has had some business relations with Frank Henry. He had read of the case and had a fixed opinion which he could not lay aside. Messrs. Ommen and Graef were excused for cause.

Samuel Wilcox of Alexander was examined by Mr. Smith and said that he did not know John Henry although he had spent one night at Charles Henry's house 28 years ago. He heard and read of the case and it would take much evidence to remove his fixed opinion.

Amos May questioned by Mr. Smith said he was a barber employed in Jacksonville and had no opinion in the case except based on hearsay and newspaper stories.

Mr. Wilcox was excused by the state for cause. William Hulscher, Jr. of Meredosia in reply to a question by Mr. Smith said that he had heard about the case from people living near Woodson who claimed to know the facts and that it would take a lot of evidence to remove his opinion. He was excused for cause.

H. W. Dinwiddle, of Arcadia in response to Mr. Smith's question said that he did not know the Henry family and while he had read something about the case he had no fixed opinion. He said he had never had any attorney and knew of nothing to embarrass him in rendering a true and just verdict based upon the facts as shown by the evidence.

Messrs. Reinback, Perbix, May and Dinwiddle were tendered by the prosecution as competent.

Mr. Reinback Questioned.
Mr. Reinback was questioned by Mr. Hairgrove as follows:

Mr. Hairgrove: If you have a reasonable doubt as to the sanity of the defendant at the time the crime was committed would you hesitate to find him not guilty?

Answer: No sir.

Mr. Hairgrove: Have you formed an opinion?

Answer: I have formed an opinion from what I read in the newspapers.

Mr. Hairgrove: Do you still have that opinion?

Answer: Yes.

Mr. Hairgrove: Have you any prejudices against an insanity plea in such a case?

Answer: No.

were asked Mr. Perbix and the replies did not vary greatly.

Amos May in reply to Mr. Hairgrove said:

Mr. Hairgrove: Have you talked with any of the people about Woodson about the case?

Answer: I have heard it talked about only casually.

Mr. Hairgrove: Have you any prejudices against the defense of insanity in the case?

Answer: No.

Mr. Hairgrove: Have you formed an opinion?

Answer: I don't think I have.

When Mr. Dinwiddie was asked by Mr. Hairgrove as to his prejudice as to the insanity plea in criminal case he replied that there might be a slight prejudice. At this point Judge Jones explained the duties of the jurors as to the question of an accused man and the insanity plea. The judge went into the matter in some little detail and said the question would arise as to whether in case of such kind a verdict of not guilty of a crime charged should be rendered on a plea of insanity there would also be some consideration as to whether or not the accused had fully recovered.

The court made it clear so far as the question of sanity is concerned that the juror must not be in frame of mind simply to bring in a verdict guilty or not guilty. If juror decides that the defendant was insane at the time of the commission of the crime he must also decide as to his mental state at the time of the trial. If the accused were declared not guilty, insane at the time of the crime and sane at the trial he will go free. If he is found not guilty, insane at the time of the crime and still insane then he must be confined in an insane hospital. A verdict of guilty or not guilty will not be sufficient in a case where insanity is the plea.

E. E. Hairgrove addressed the court and said that the form of the verdict was a question for the court to determine and the question of guilt is one for the jury. Then Mr. W. N. Hairgrove reframed a question that he asked of Messrs. Reinback, Perbix, May and Dinwiddie, into about this form: "If on the consideration of the whole evidence you have or form an opinion as to the insanity of the defendant at the time of the commission of the crime of which he is now being tried would you hesitate to find him not guilty, in accordance with what you found to be the law in such cases?"

J. Marshall Miller asked Mr. Perbix and Mr. May further questions as to their state of mind with reference to an insanity plea and their opinion as to the consideration of the evidence in relation to this plea. Messrs. Reinback, Perbix and Dinwiddie were then passed by the state as competent.

Mr. Perbix Challenged.

The defense then pre-emptorily challenged Mr. Perbix.

The court then asked if attorneys for either side had any objection with proceeding with only eleven jurors in the box as the regular panel of jurors had been exhausted. He also asked how much longer the attorneys desired to continue the session. W. N. Hairgrove and other attorneys glanced at the clock and said "Yes it is getting late and it is a few minutes past 5 o'clock." Judge Jones replied was laughing, "Gentlemen, I have seen the clock myself, you are not answering my question. I asked how much longer you wanted to continue the session." Then the attorneys agreed that an adjournment should be taken until this morning at nine o'clock.

Before ordering the jurors placed in charge of a deputy sheriff for the night Judge Jones addressed them briefly and told them that they were not to discuss the case with each other or to allow it to be talked about in their presence. He said that if there was any violation of these court orders that the matter would be reported to the court and that the necessary action would be taken. He said further that their only outside communication must be with the sworn officers in whose charge they were placed.

The jurors in the custody of deputy Sheriff Kettering went to the jury room and subsequently were escorted to the Pacific Hotel for supper. They were quartered there during the night in the custody of Mr. Kettering and Deputy Weatherford.

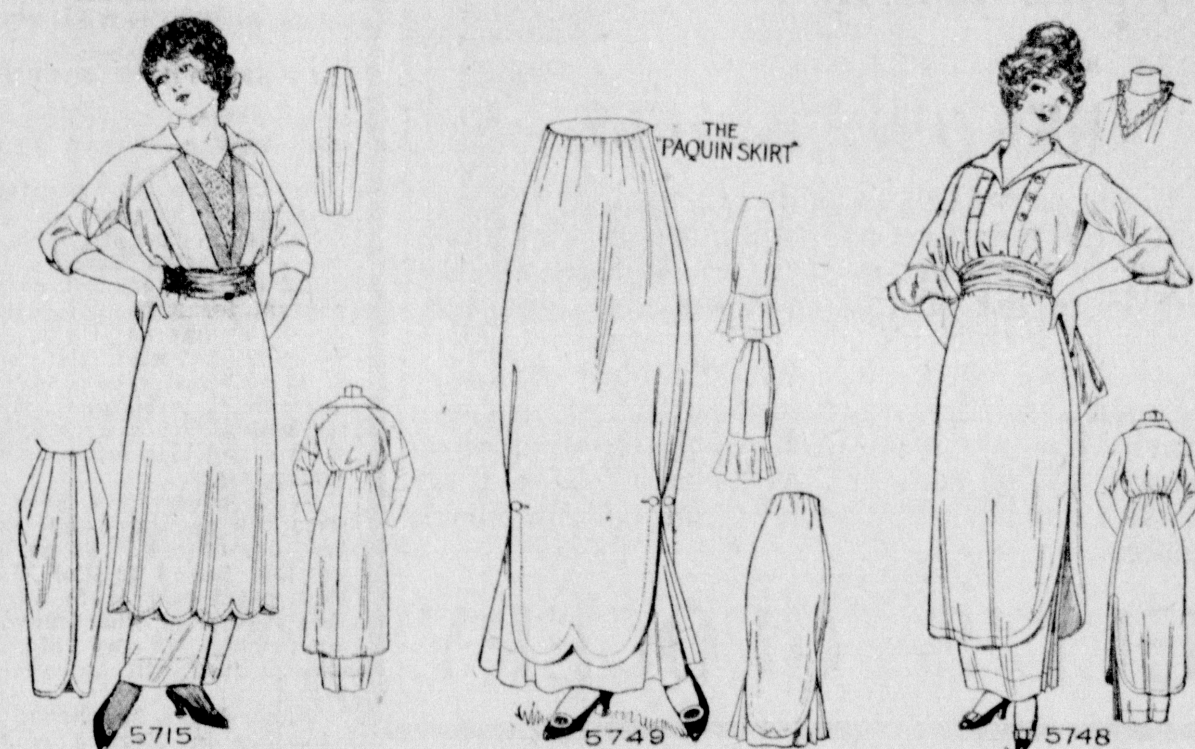

Following the court session Judge Jones conferred with all attorneys as to the matter of veniremen. It seems that it is either possible to use the names from the general jury list as prepared by the county commissioners or it is possible to direct the sheriff to go broadcast to summon possible jurors. The judge said that in the latter case it would be advisable to direct the sheriff not to go to certain quarters of the county where the residents would be likely to have too close knowledge of the case.

Earlier in the session by agreement of attorneys with Judge Jones the case of J. E. Rawlings and others of Nortonville who are accused of arson was fixed for Thursday morning at nine o'clock. Fire Marshal Borgardus and Assistant State's Attorney Sullivan of Springfield were here for this case and it was agreed that if the hearing could not be heard Thursday that they would be notified to that effect.

ILLINOIS ATHLETES AIEE WELCOMED HOME

Team That Won Meet at Peoria Given Warm Reception.

The Illinois college track team which won the honors at the Inter-collegiate meet in Peoria were met by a delegation of students upon their return and yesterday morning a line of march was formed and the students, both boys and girls, marched down town, headed by make-up band. It was the first time that the girls had taken part in a demonstration of this character. Part of the chapel hour was also given over to a recognition of the worth of the athletes.

At the business session held in Peoria, Carbondale was admitted into membership making the 16th school.

The association passed a rule that when a student enters a school more than ten days after the beginning of a term or semester, he must be in school at least three weeks before he is eligible to compete in any inter-collegiate athletic contest.

A student competing on a college team shall not be permitted to compete with any other organization in that same sport.

There was a general feeling that the district tournament such as held last fall would be abandoned, in favor of one large tournament.

Thursday the Illinois college ball team goes to Lincoln to play Lincoln, Friday at Eastern Normal, Charleston; Saturday (Decoration day) at Millikin university.

FRANKLIN WAS THE VICTOR.

In an article announcing the Eagles ball game for Sunday in Saturday's issue of the Journal it stated that the Springfield Seals defeated the Franklin team by a score of 5 to 4. The statement was an error, as the Franklin team won the contest from the Springfield players.

THE HENRY TRIAL PROCEEDS.

Contrary to the expectation of a great many people the trial of John Henry, charged with the murder of Charles Ezard, is being heard at this time of court. It is unusual for a case of such importance to come to trial at the term of court following the commission of the alleged crime and the very fact that it is being tried now is a testimonial to the recognized self control and fair mindedness of this community.

Four jurors have been accepted from the regular panel after one half day's work. There are seven possible jurors in the box out of that panel and it is not unlikely that several of them may be found competent. At any rate it is possible a jury will be completed today.

Judge Jones has begun his term of office in Morgan county at a very busy term but has pushed the work forward in such a way that a great many matters have already been cleared from the docket. His court rulings thus far in the Henry case indicate that while he wishes to give both the state and defense all the time that is necessary, that he does not wish any time wasted. At several points during the examination of jurors yesterday the judge suggested the phrasing of a question which aided both jurors and attorneys.

It may be mentioned in passing too that Judge Jones while maintaining very cordial relations with all the attorneys at the same time is firm in his decisions and makes it very clear that he is fully advised in the rules and proprieties of court procedure. The fact that the three cases on the criminal docket have not been taken from the days on which they were originally set gives another indication that the court expects to have the trial work move along with speed and regularly.

FRANCHISES ARE PASSED.

The three franchises, much discussed in one form or another for the past two or three years have been passed by the city council. The gas franchise provides for gas at a maximum price of $1. The electric rate is eight cents and down according to the amount used. The terms of the street railway franchise include the present rates and the payment of two per cent of the company's gross returns for a term of years and four per cent for a second period.

The franchises are now to be presented to the Railway & Light company and they have ten days in which to signify their acceptance thereof. If accepted, the whole will be put up to the people and with the rates so much lower than now in effect would have a good chance of passing. If the company refuses to accept them then the city is right where it was several years ago when the whole matter of franchise agitation was inaugurated by the bringing of suits which were subsequently held up.

It is certainly to be hoped that the company can see its way clear to accept the franchises and then if the rates are too low to have them adjudicated by the utility commission. Popular belief is that whether the rates be fixed high or low in a local franchise that the utility commission has full power to change them accordingly as the facts justify. Yesterday Mr. Miser indicated that unless a clause was inserted in the franchise that the company would not accept it. The clause was not inserted yet bearing in mind the relief which the utility commission affords it may be possible that the company will determine to go ahead and accept the terms offered and carry the case "higher up." The recent announcement of the large amounts to be spent locally in improving the property here were received with pleasure by the people giving as it did sure evidence of faith in Jacksonville and a desire to better the service here. The acceptance of the franchises would seemingly still further emphasize this same spirit.

TRIBUTE TO SOUTH TO BE UNVEILED.

President Wilson Has Promised to Attend Memorial Exercises For Confederate Women.

Raleigh, N. C., May 25.—President Wilson has promised to come to Raleigh next month to attend the unveiling of the memorial in honor of the Confederate women of North Carolina. The unveiling will be a feature of the annual reunion of the Confederate veterans of this State. The visit of President Wilson will be the first occasion since the civil war that a President of the United States has come below Mason and Dixon's line to participate in a celebration of Confederate sentiments. It also will be the first time a president of the United States has unveiled, except on the battlefield at Gettysburg, a monument to those sentiments.

The monument that is to be unveiled stands on the Capitol grounds of this city. It is a gift from the late Col. Ashley Horne of Clayton, N. C., in memory of his mother, who sent six sons to Lee's army, three of whom were killed. Col. Horne announced his gift of $10,000 for the erection of a memorial in honor of the women of the Confederacy only a short time before his death, which occurred last October. He was a Confederate veteran and one of the leading men of North Carolina. He was only twenty years old when he enlisted in the Fifteenth North Carolina Infantry and he served from the beginning to the end of the war. Nearly all of his service was with Lee in the army of Northern Virginia and he was with him at the surrender.

Turning his face homeward after the war, young Horne found a portion of Sherman's army still occupying his father's devastated plantation. The blight of war on the Horne place had reduced plenty to poverty. Of his five brothers three had been killed in battle and the other two were in Federal prisons. With a negro boy he came in the night to the Union camp in Raleigh, where Sherman had accumulated a great quantity of stock and succeeded in getting away with two horses without being detected by the guards.

Having nothing with which to feed them after he got them home, he grazed one while he plowed with the other, and thus made for his parents a small crop of corn and melons. After a long struggle Col. Horne got together a capital of $600. With this he entered business and eventually became one of the wealthiest farmers, manufacturers and merchants in North Carolina. In 1908 he was a Democratic candidate for governor, but was defeated.

The memorial which has been given to the State through Col. Horne's munificence was designed by Augustus Lukeman, the New York sculptor. The memorial group depicts a "grandmother of the Confederacy," who sits reading to a boy the story of the South's belief in its idea and its gallantry for the cause, while the boy listens, clasping a sheathed sword. The faces were selected by the sculptor as types. The gown of the grandmother was modeled from a veritable ante-bellum example.

Washington, May 23.—The developments in the Mexican situation, the progress of the mediation conference and the doing of congress will continue to furnish the front page stories for the coming week. Added to these will be a number of events at home and abroad of more or less interest to the public.

Other political events of the week will be the state conventions of the Democrats of Tennessee and the Republicans of Missouri and a "welfare conference" to be held in Detroit by the Republicans of Michigan.

MICHIGAN G. O. P. CONFERENCE IN DETROIT TOMORROW

Three Thousand Party Leaders Will Make Gathering Notable.

Detroit, Mich., May 25.—Republican leaders from every nook and corner of Michigan are arriving in Detroit to attend the State "Wellfare Conference" which is to meet tomorrow. With present indications pointing to an attendance of fully 3,000 of the party leaders the conference promises to be one of the most notable political gatherings held in Michigan for years.

The chief purpose of the gathering is to draw up preliminary plans for the coming state campaign. No formal action is to be taken with reference to candidates for places on the state ticket, but naturally there will be considerable discussion of the subject among the delegates to the conference. The gathering is to be wound up with a big public meeting which is to have Senator William E. Borah of Idaho as the principal speaker.

Owing to the peculiar conditions existing in Michigan politics at the present time the proceedings of the Republican conference will be followed with more than ordinary interest. The Republicans believe they have a chance to make a clean sweep of the state offices in the next election, though they realize the fact that they must have an A. No. 1 candidate for governor if they win the victory.

Michigan now has a Democratic governor, the first to occupy the executive office for more than twenty years. The question that is now uppermost in the minds of the Republican leaders is whether they can pick a man able to defeat Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris, provided the latter, as is expected, again heads the Democratic ticket.

Governor Ferris incurred considerable enmity among the labor leaders of the state when he sent the militia into the upper peninsula at the beginning of the great copper strike, and the union men have been bitter in their denunciations of the chief executive's action, declaring that he will never receive the vote of the labor element again. On the other hand, many stalwart Republicans in the upper peninsula, business men and influential citizens, who have always rallied around the G. O. P. standard, have openly declared that Ferris can have their votes if he runs again, and they have commended him because of the firm course he pursued during the labor troubles. But now that the copper strike has been settled in a manner fairly satisfactory to all parties it is a question whether the governor's attitude when the strike was at its height will have as much influence in the coming campaign as it appeared probable that it would some months ago.

Governor Ferris was elected in 1912 by a substantial plurality, but the Republicans figure that the conditions next November will be entirely different from the situation as it existed two years ago. If the Progressive vote falls off as much next fall as it did in the last spring election, the Democratic candidate must receive thousands of Republican votes to be returned to office. Moreover, the Republicans hope to have a far stronger candidate to head their ticket this year than was the case in 1912.

All this has been carefully considered by the Republican leaders and they are desirous to pick out a candidate who will bring the party back into power. All the elective state offices with the exception of the governorship are now filled by Republicans, but considerable patronage is at stake in the coming campaign, and the G. O. P. leaders are doubly anxious to win.

Already there are two avowed candidates for the Republican nomination for governor. They are Secretary of State Frederick C. Martindale and Alex J. Groesbeck, chairman of the Republican state central committee. Both are residents of Detroit. There are many prominent members of the party who believe that it would be wise to pass up both Groesbeck and Martindale in naming the head of the ticket. There are no objections to either man personally and both are recognized as loyal party men. But Martindale has the advantage of having been an unsuccessful candidate for the nomination two years ago, while the nomination of Groesbeck would not be calculated to win back any part of the Progressives, since he is generally blamed for the troubles at the Bay City convention, when the Roosevelt adherents were hurled from the platform.

Among those who desire to see a third candidate put in the field for

This picture shows how Colonel Theodore Roosevelt looks today after his return from seven months in the South American jungles. It shows that his face is thinner and that the lines are deeper. He lost over thirty-five pounds while on his exploratory trip and was ill with fever and boils. A wound in the calf of the leg sustained in jumping proved painful. When he returned to New York he carried a cane for the first time. He planned to sail on May 30 for Madrid, Spain, where his son Kermit, who was with him on the trip, will wed Miss Willard.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES HELD AT CENTENARY M. E. CHURCH

Eloquent Sermon Delivered Before the Grand Army and Relief Corps By Rev. G. W. Flagg, Pastor of Centenary Church.

The veterans of Matt Starr Post 378, G. A. R., and the ladies of the Women's Relief Corps gathered in goodly numbers at G. A. R. hall Sunday morning and marched behind the flag to Centenary church where the memorial service was delivered by the pastor, Rev. G. W. Flagg.

The visitors were treated with great courtesy, seated in the body of the church and were recipients of much honor. The church was beautifully decorated with flags and an abundance of national emblems while portraits of President Lincoln, Generals Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and other heroes of the war were conspicuous.

The music for the occasion was fully in keeping with the rest of the exercises and was of a fine quality. "America" being the closing number.

The theme of the sermon was taken from the book of Esther, "To establish this among them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the month of Adar and the fifteenth day of the same yearly as the days wherein the Jews rested from their enemies, and the month which turned from them from sorrow unto joy and from mourning unto a good day: that they should make them days of feasting and joy and of sending portions one to another and of gifts to the poor."

It had been a great time of rejoicing among the Jewish people. They had escaped a dreadful slaughter and instead of that the arch enemy who had planned it had himself been slain and many of his family and others like him had fallen. Naturally it was a day of the greatest importance and was well worthy of a place in the annals of the nation which had escaped wholesale destruction and they very properly celebrated with suitable ceremonies.

Today we are called on to celebrate a day of great importance and the question arises, for what cause is the celebration asked and why do we come here today?

The book of Esther is unique among the books of the holy bible. It is unique in that it does not anywhere contain the name of deity. It is unique in other ways and the higher critics would cast it out, but if we listened to all these higher critics have to say we would have no bible left. They would cast out one part because it was the utterance of a man as they claim not inspired; they would cast out another because it doesn't appeal to their intelligence and so on till the word of God would be so emasculated there would be nothing left of it.

But it is authentic and all right. The Master indorsed it when He referred to the law and the prophets as authority. The disciples in foreign lands have to their own estimation that they have discovered that no such person as Abraham ever existed. They say there was no such civilization as depicted by his life and no such thing as writing at the time he lived, but in excavating the ruins of ancient cities stones have been found indicating a high degree of civilization at that time and so another argument falls to the ground.

But it has been claimed that Mordecai didn't show the right spirit; that the whole affair was cruel and bloodthirsty. In reply I point to the spirit of the times which prevailed then. All that was done was true to the spirit which then prevailed.

Our war with Mexico was no credit to us as a nation but we honor the heroes who fought in it. The war of secession was an attempt to destroy the very vital principle and fabric of government yet the rank and file of the southern army were brave and patriotic and felt they were fighting for the right yet had they succeeded and the principle of secession been established where would it have stopped? Each state could have gone off to itself and it might even have extended to the boundaries of counties even.

The southern leaders brought on the war. They were actuated by ambition, greed and a selfish desire to perpetuate slavery and they deceived the masses into the belief that they were fighting to preserve their homes and firesides.

The war settled forever the nefarious doctrine of states rights but another great question, that of the colored race, yet remains somewhat unsolved and the coming generations will have to grapple with it in time.

The work of Joshua was butchery but it had to be done. The work of the Jews at the time of Esther was butchery but it had to be done.

So the civil war cost thousands of precious lives but there was no way to avoid it.

To you gallant and brave soldiers the nation owes its existence. Today we gather to pay a tribute of honor to the heroes who lie, so many in unknown graves, some in national cemeteries and some in our own home resting places of the dead. All honor to the noble men who so bravely fought and gave their lives for their beloved land. All honor to the noble women who remained at home and labored, prayed and gave their all for the ones at the front. You should know what atonement means and may you all take firm hold of the gospel of Him who gave His precious life that we all might be saved.

SULPHUR DRIES UP ECZEMA AND STOPS ITCHING

This Old Time Skin Healer is Used Just Like Cold Cream.

With the first application of bold-sulphur cream the angry itching attending any eczema eruption ceases and its remarkable healing powers begin. Sulphur, says a renowned dermatologist, just common bold-sulphur, made into a thick cream will soothe and heal the skin when irritated and broken out with Eczema or any form of eruption. The moment it is applied all itching ceases and after two or three applications the Eczema disappears, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

He tells Eczema sufferers to get from any good pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it to the irritated, inflamed skin, the same as you would any cold cream. For many years this soothing, healing sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous affections by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticide, but also antipruritic, antiseptic and remarkably healing in all irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to instantly subdue the irritation and heal the Eczema right up and is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

THE CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND.

The people of Jacksonville have shown a kindly spirit toward the playground for the children. It is located in the first ward and soon will be put to use now that the schools are dismissed or soon will be. The playground needs a few things very much and among other suitable toilet accommodations for the children and there is no money in the treasury. The park board would be very grateful for the donation of two abandoned water closets. If any public spirited persons have these to spare and are willing to give them to the children's playground please leave word with Terrence Brennan, secretary, 217 South Sandy street.

PICNIC AT PARK.

Nichols park was the scene of grand merriment yesterday when Miss Shannon took the children of her room there for the day. The little folks enjoyed the playground and all attractions to the full and went home at night delighted with the experiences of the day.

Fletcherism

By WALT MASON.

I read a screed by Brother Fletcher, on how we ought to chew our grub, I said "It's sensible you betcher!" I'll emulate that thoughtful dub. No more like some old anacconda, I'll swallow all my victuals whole; I'll eat the sort of things I'm fond o' but chew them up with heart and soul. And now I'm always at the table, I have no time to do my chores; the horse is starving in the stable, the weeds are growing out of doors. My wife says, "Say, you should be doing some work around this shipshop place." I answer her, "I'm busy chewing—can't see the motions of my face?" I have no time to hoe the taters, I have no time to mow the lawn; though chewing like ten alligators, I'm still behind, so help me John! I chew the water I am drinking, I chew the biscuit and the bun; I'll have to hire a boy, I'm thinking, to help me get my chewing done. Some day they'll bear me on a stretcher out to the boneyard, where they plant, and send my teeth to Brother Fletcher, to make a necklace for his aunt.

CONFLICTING CONDITIONS KEEP MARKET IN CHECK

Washington Reports Indicate Further Investigations by Government and Carrying Out of Anti-trust Program.

New York, May 25.—Conflicting conditions served to keep the stock market in check again today. Chief among these were the general investigations into the management of certain large railway systems, as well as indications that the administration purposes carrying out its so-called anti-trust program during the present session of congress.

Absence of definite details regarding the Missouri Pacific situation misgivings as to the progress of Mexican mediation and additional gold exports to Paris were contributing factors.

LOSING HOPE WOMAN VERY ILL

Finally Restored To Health
By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break. I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.

Woman's Precious Gift.

The one which she should most zealously guard, is her health, but it is the one most often neglected, until some ailment peculiar to her sex has fastened itself upon her. When so affected such women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a remedy that has been wonderfully successful in restoring health to suffering women.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

O. E. TANDY RETURNS FROM TRIP IN TENNESSEE

Jacksonville Resident Tells of Conditions and People in Southern States.

O. E. Tandy has returned from a sojourn of several months in Tennessee where he had great success in his business. He speaks in the highest terms of praise of Gov. Hooper, elected by the people who were tired of old regime so bad that a buzzard would have to hold his nose flying over it.

Gov. Hooper was first nominated by the regular Republican convention and then came the gathering of independent Democrats, which Mr. Tandy attended. He said that eighty per cent were grey haired and over fifty per cent Confederate veterans. They endorsed the nomination of Gov. Hooper and when he appeared Mr. Tandy says the scene can hardly be described. Hats went into the air, men shouted themselves hoarse and all was wildest enthusiasm.

Gov. Hooper is a temperance candidate and succeeding in getting a drastic law enforcement statute on the books he undertook to make Memphis dry though they said he couldn't do it but when several prominent saloon keepers were put on the street chain gang for sixty days they found it was no laughing matter and concluded "Gov. Ben" meant business and they better stop.

Mr. Tandy says he succeeded in introducing a number of the text books into the state and says it was the first attempt that had been made which was free from graft but Gov. Hooper warned the contestants or rival agents that if any of them attempted it they would be duly punished.

Gov. Hooper is what is termed in the south a "woods coll", but his father had the honor and manhood to give him a good raising and education and the boy took care of his mother while she lived. His political rivals taunted him with his origin but it accomplished nothing against him.

Mr. Tandy compares the governor with Abraham Lincoln and says the Creator made but few such men and they are scarce and far between. He is a foe to graft of all kinds and merciless in the enforcement of law. He has great power with the legislature and has secured the enactment of a number of salutary statutes. He is an uncompromising foe of the saloon and in a speech said substantially:

"I hope the day will come in the grand old state of Tennessee that there will be thousands of men who never saw a saloon and know nothing of its blighting effects. When the demon rum will have been banished from our glorious commonwealth; when the wives and children of the state will have husbands and fathers whose first and greatest concern will be the welfare of their loved ones; when wages will all go for useful ends and none to swell the bank accounts of men who thrive on the wretchedness and misery of their fellowmen whose hope for gain lies in making widows, orphans, drunkards, law breakers and candidates for the penitentiary.

In some far away corner we may be able to look on and see the glad day with all its blessedness and feel that we took at least some small part in it and little difference will it make to what political party we belonged."

Very naturally the governor is not popular with the machine which has run the state's affairs so long but Mr. Tandy says he is popular with the vast majority of the people and he is rigid and impartial in all his acts and bids fair to be elected again.

ECHOES FROM ALEXANDER

Alexander Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighborhood?" The generous statement of this Alexander resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

John A. William Aulbaugh, farmer, Alexander, Ill., says: "About two years ago I took several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and I will say that they did me more good than all the doctors I had tried. I have been bothered very little with my back since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Aulbaugh is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you—don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Aulbaugh had. 50c all stores. COUNCIL GAVE FRANCHISES A SECOND READING MONDAY

Clause Providing That Company Shall Go Before Utility Commission and Ask a Review of Local Situation and Fix Rates Not Inserted—Mayor Will Present Ordinances.

The city council met Monday morning in regular session and transacted routine business and began the reading of the gas ordinance for a second time. When the reading of this franchise began City Attorney Thompson presented a section to take the place of No. 3 in the franchise as previously read. The purpose of this substitution Mr. Thompson said was to put the franchise into such shape that it would be accepted by the company and will make it possible to get the matter of rates ready before the Utility Commission. The substitute that he offered provided a clause making it obligatory upon the company to go before the Utility Commission and ask them to review the situation in Jacksonville and fix the rates. It also provided that the rates now in effect should remain unchanged but that if the Utility Commission lowered the rates that a refund should be made to the consumer. The council voted down this substitute.

A second session of the council was held Monday night when the remainder of the ordinance was read. After the reading of the minutes Mayor Davis made a statement with reference to the desire of the G. A. R. with reference to Decoration Day. The old soldiers here asked the council to arrange for the finances for that day and to usher at the services and the council gladly agreed to the arrangement. Mayor Davis and Commissioner Knollenberg were directed to proceed with the raising of the necessary funds. A petition was presented signed by H. E. Frye, as chairman of the Eagles Social Club, asking authority to have the carnival and festival which commences today run through next Sunday. The petition stated that the carnival was clean and moral and that the club believed that having the entertainment on Sunday would create amusement for hundreds unable to go out of the city on that day. The communication also stated that the club would donate ten per cent of the gross receipts on that day to any charitable institution that the council designated. This matter was referred to Commissioner Engle with power to act.

City Will Lay Walks.

Attention was called by Mayor Davis to the sidewalk underneath the subway on East College avenue. The matter was referred to department of streets for immediate action. Commissioner Engel said that there had been some complaint about offensive matter being placed in the city dumping ground and that the question would be investigated. Commissioner Brennan reported that the repairs in progress at the light and pumping station are moving forward in a very satisfactory way. Commissioner Newman asked if it was the intention of the council for the city to lay walks where property owners failed to comply with the order of such walks, and it was the sense of the entire council that this should be done. To get the matter on record Mr. Newman made a motion to that effect with a second by Mr. Knollenberg and it was carried unanimously.

Mr. Engel reported the case N. Brinsmead who hauled a city smallpox patient in his machine without knowing in advance what was the disease. The time required for fumigation caused him a considerable loss and as a matter of justice the council decided to remit his vehicle license.

The consideration of the gas franchise was then commenced. Mayor Davis said that while in Springfield recently he had talked with Chairman Quan and Judge Thompson of the board and that they had both assured him that it was not so very material about the rates in the Jacksonville franchises as the board would probably review the situation here and that the rates would be changed if occasion should warrant. The Mayor's opinion was after conversation with these men and others that the important thing to do was to have franchise ordinances providing for the proper regulation of company affairs, etc., and that there would be no question but that the rates would be handled in a fair way by the Utility Commission.

Then City Attorney Thompson presented the clause which he suggested it would be well to insert as he said Mr. Miser assured him that without this change the company would not accept the franchise and that affair would be up in the air as usual before. Mr. Miser who was present stated that this was the case. It was also a suggestion of Mr. Thompson and Mr. Miser that the rate be left as at present for gas. Mr. Brennan with a second by Mr. Knollenberg made a motion that the ordinance as read at a previous meeting stand, and all the council voted affirmatively. Then the reading of the franchise continued although Mr. Miser withdrew and said that the franchise would not be acceptable to the company. Subsequently he returned to the meeting and agreed to a $1.00 rate if the clause referring the matter to the commission was inserted.

Mayor Will Present Measures.

Mayor Davis made known at this council session that he has prepared two ordinances which will be introduced in the council at an early date. One of them is with reference to the regulation of the sale of ice and the other relates to the moving and raising of houses. The ordinance with reference to the sale of ice, provides that every person, firm or corporation engaging in such business shall each month obtain a license and fixes the monthly fee for the license at 50c. It provides that the person or firm to whom the license is issued shall comply with all its terms. Section 4 makes it unlawful for any dealer who sells by weight to collect or attempt to collect for any greater number of pounds than that delivered. Section 5 makes it obligatory for the dealer to weigh ice at the time of delivery to requested and requires the dealers and employees to have necessary weighing equipment. Section 6 provides that the customer may have the right to see the ice weighed. Section 10 provides for a fine from 10 to 100 dollars for each violation. It is understood that the ordinance purposes to compel dealers to sell ice upon presentation of the cash, whether or not the buyer has a coupon book. It is understood that this can be accomplished by putting a provision in the license which is to be issued. Mayor Davis believes that a poor person who wants to buy 5 or 10c worth of ice who has no book, or cannot afford to buy a book, should have that privilege.

The ordinance provides that no person, firm or corporation except a licensed house mover shall remove, raise or hold up any building without a permit, and that no such permits shall be granted to anyone except a licensed house mover. The ordinance provides for a license fee of $50 and a bond of $2,000. Provision is made also for protection of trees and other property along streets where buildings are to be moved and proper notice must be given to residents. There are other provisions too all looking towards the lessening of danger and damage to property from house moving.

At the evening session of the council the second reading of the gas ordinance was completed and the electric light and railway franchises were given their second reading. All these ordinances were passed by unanimous vote of the council, only a few changes being made in the wording of some of the sections. The clerk was instructed to send a copy of all three ordinances, together with an official notice of their passage, to the railway company this morning. After this action the council adjourned.

DR. F. A. MCARTY GIVES
BACCALAUREATE SERMON

Heard in Fine Address Before the Graduating Class of High School on Subject "A Living or a Life."

The graduating class of the high school listened to the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning in the Central Christian church which was well filled every part being thrown open and added to the regular auditorium of the church. Much of this was due to the fact that Dr. F. A. McCarty was to deliver the sermon for the reverend gentleman is always at his best on such occasions and much in demand owing to his fine ability in addressing young people seeking an education.

The class and high school faculty assembled in the rear room of the church and marched in and took seats reserved for them in the center of the auditorium while the choice seats were occupied by the high school orchestra, twenty-two in number, led by Miss Anna Goodrick, teacher of music in the schools. Miss Alice Mathis was the organist and did her part with fine ability while the whole musical program as printed in the Journal was almost admirably rendered.

The services were begun with an invocation by Dr. McCarty after which all united in singing the hymn "Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of Hosts." Dr. J. R. Barker, president of the Illinois Woman's College, read a part of the 6th chapter of the gospel of Matthew and offered an earnest prayer.

The theme of the excellent discourse of Dr. McCarty was "A Living or a Life," suggested by the words in Matt. 6:31-33. "Be not therefore anxious saying, what shall we eat or what shall we drink or wherewith shall we be clothed for after all these things do the Gentiles seek or your Heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of them but seek ye first His kingdom and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you."

He said in part:

As you young people stand as it were at a mountain pass looking back over the path you have traveled and looking forward over the part of life's road you are yet to travel two great problems confront you and the one of seeming greatest importance is that of making a living. A stranger coming to this world would think this the all important subject of life. Contemplate the rush, the bustle, the jostling of men one against the other; the haste, the inordinate speed at which men move and all to make a living and no doubt as you have gazed into the future and contemplated it the same thought has entered your mind that the prime object of your lives is a living. Let me emphatically say this is not the case but the making of a life is the all important object which should actuate every mind. Sir Philip Sidney has rightly said that there is vast difference between making a living and making a life. It is therefore of vast importance to you that you see this difference and govern yourselves accordingly not being actuated by the desire for sordid gain but for something nobler and more enduring. Why so many suicides among men who have succeeded in making money? They have not attained the great object of making a life.

On the other hand many who have suffered pain and hardships, toil and privation have borne all cheerfully and have succeeded in the one all important object, that of making a life.

Making a life is a work of magnitude. It is not at once so evident but in the great final reckoning the one who has made a success in this line will be fitted for eternal enjoyment. Think any of us know what kind of a living Shakespeare made; how George Washington got along making money; how great fortunes Abraham Lincoln accumulated? This is insignificant compared with the mighty impress they left on the world.

While monuments mark the last resting places of Phillips Brooks, H. W. Longfellow, James Russell Lowell and many others of that kind, how much more enduring is the work they did and the fame they earned by their labors for mankind.

We may not win fame; possibly the world may hear little of us but for each person the Creator has a work to do; a grand object in life to accomplish and if we honestly desire to know it He will make it plain and if we succeed in His eyes the opinion of the world today counts for but little for the real account is kept in the books on high and there no mistakes are ever made.

We have but one life to live and the law of God is our only true guide. Realize the kingdom in your own lives and build according to the will of your Maker; make the kingdom real and valuable to your fellow-men and seek above the kingdom of God and a grand success will be yours for your names will be enrolled on high.

"I think Chamberlain's Liniment is just splendid for rheumatism," writes Mrs. Dunburgh, Eldridge, N. Y. TO DESTROY WEEDS.

Some Experienced Farmers Were Discussing Subject Yesterday.

Regarding milk weed one remarked that the weed was rather easily pulled up and that was about as good a way as any to get rid of them. When they are mature and in blossom or nearly ready to seed they may be pulled to scatter the seed down to one that is horizontal and if pulled up it is likely to be killed.

Burr dock is a hard customer. Some men cut it off and put salt on the stalk after making a place for it but that is slow and dangerous to adjacent vegetation. Constant cutting is about the best remedy for the evil.

Another gentleman said he had had good success treating poison ivy with crude petroleum which costs only a dollar a barrel and does no damage. In most ways of attack they are liable to poison the man who works among them but the petroleum is safe.

KILLED SPREADING ADDER. Last Sunday at his home on West Court street George Stout killed a spreading adder four feet long. A few days ago a reptile something like this one was killed near the same place. If Mr. Stout is correct in naming the snake he certainly did humanity a great good turn for the spreading adder is a very venomous reptile.

JUNIORS OF HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAIN FOR THE SENIORS

Delightful Banquet Held at the New Odd Fellows Temple on East State Street.—Dance Follows List of Toasts.

The annual banquet of the Junior class of the high school to the seniors was held Monday evening in the New Odd Fellows temple on East State street. There was a large attendance and the dining hall was completely filled by the students.

A most excellent banquet was served, the long rows of tables being prettily decorated with spring flowers. After the banquet Miss Anna Day was introduced as toastmistress and filled the position in a most gracious manner.

The list of toasts was sprinkled with wit and humor which kept the student body interested and jolly. The toasts follow:

Our Culinary Artists—Prof. T. P. Carter.

Follies of 1914.—Miss Marie Scott.

Stars of 1914.—Coach H. M. Bland.

Spirit of 1914.—Harlan Williamson.

Farewell of 1914.—Frank Merrill.

Wine, Mirth and Music.—Sept. W. A. Gore.

After the toasts the floor was cleared and the high school orchestra, which had furnished music during the evening, played for the dance.

The committee on refreshments was composed of Dale Boxell, chairman; Helen Wintler and Miss Baldwin. The following resolutions in behalf of Miss Isabel Baldwin were read and adopted, the committee being Frank Merrill and Dale Boxell: Whereas, our very efficient domestic science teacher, Miss Isabel Baldwin, has on several occasions during the past year come nobly to the assistance of the Junior and Senior classes by satisfying the inner man with first class food at little cost;

And, whereas, said teacher has freely and voluntarily come to our assistance in supervising and managing this Junior and Senior banquet;

And, whereas, through her efforts and knowledge we have been able to furnish this banquet at very reasonable rates, making it possible for all to be present;

And, whereas, this has been done at considerable sacrifice, on the part of our worthy teacher, now therefore be it resolved that we, the Juniors and Seniors present at this festival board, show our appreciation of her services as well as her assistants by extending her a vote of thanks.
